

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Arts4All Florida
University of South Florida
www.arts4allflorida.org

CONTACT: Emily Dixon
Director of Programs
emilydixon@usf.edu
813-422-1688

Duval County Student Named Arts4All Florida
November 2024 Student of the Month
(Tampa, FL) November 12, 2024

Arts4All Florida is delighted to highlight Langston Elliott, a talented 13-year-old student from The Foundation Academy in Duval County, as our esteemed Student of the Month for November 2024. This honor comes through a heartfelt nomination by Dr. Tim Conway, president of The Morris Center.

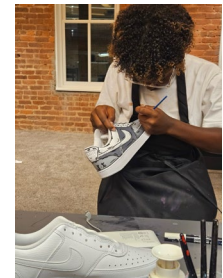

Dr. Conway remarked, “Langston's creative talents are exceptional, particularly in sewing, where he has exhibited remarkable skills from a young age. His passion for designing intricate Halloween costumes, alongside his interests in music, painting, and drawing, truly highlights his artistic gifts.” In addition, Langston’s engagement in recreational soccer with JFC and his role as a junior counselor reflect his dedication, underscored by his impressive record of over 200 volunteer hours.

Despite the challenges he faces due to his neurodiversity, Langston has displayed incredible resilience and commitment to our programs. His hard work has resulted in significant improvements in his academic skills, including reading, spelling, writing, comprehension, and mathematics, as well as heightened self-confidence. Following an enriching summer experience, Langston embraced his newfound self-assurance and independently auditioned for a lead role in a school theatrical production—successfully landing the part! This achievement is a testament to the perseverance and countless hours he devoted to skill development, supported by our instructors, occupational therapists, psychologists, and staff.

Langston's involvement in the arts has been a pivotal aspect of his personal and academic journey. His dedication and artistry have not only contributed to his own development but have also inspired those around him. He is truly deserving of this recognition as Student of the Month for his remarkable achievements, unwavering commitment, and enthusiasm, which help empower those in his community.

At Arts4All Florida, we are genuinely inspired by Langston’s dedication and exemplary work ethic. We are eager to feature him in our upcoming newsletter, celebrate his artistic contributions on our website, and present him with a customized trophy that honors his exceptional accomplishments in the arts at such a young age.

The Student of the Month program is designed to highlight the significant positive impact that the arts can have on students with disabilities across Florida. Participation in the arts serves as a powerful catalyst for fostering creativity, self-esteem, teamwork, and academic enhancement, ultimately promoting a well-rounded and engaging educational experience. For more information on the Student of the Month program and other initiatives at Arts4All Florida, please visit www.arts4allflorida.org.

